ANNUAL REPORT

A Message from the Board President and Executive Director

“HOW WONDERFUL IT IS THAT NOBODY NEED WAIT A SINGLE MOMENT BEFORE STARTING TO IMPROVE THE WORLD.”

These words from Anne Frank describe a caring world, one that responds to an obvious or stated need, a world that does not hesitate or wait. Her words resonate as we think back on a successful year of “repairing the world”. Tikkun olam.

Without hesitation. We act.

We work together. This is how we embrace possibility, as our tagline proclaims, with our clients, staff, board, volunteers, donors, and community partners. When a child, a family, an older adult, an individual living with disabilities, or a community needs our support, we come together. Responding proactively to individual needs and community challenges, we make it happen!

Here are some of the highlights from this past year:

- The start of Tara’s Closet with an emphasis on Mental Health Education. Our first Mental Health Conversation brought 600 people to Kingswood Oxford School to hear area experts along with NBC Today Show host Jenna Bush Hager discuss the importance of mental health education and awareness. We again commend Barbara Roth, the founder of this program, and the many volunteers who make Tara’s Closet and its mental health awareness component such a success.
- The creation of two important giving circles within our Friends Campaign: Embrace-A- Family and Embrace-A-Child. This initiative has highlighted the needs of families and children for mental health care and basic human needs such as food and clothing.

- Our Annual Hunger Event in November 2016, held at the home of Merrill and Mark Mandell, focused on feeding families through the Anja Rosenberg Kosher Food Pantry and the related need for clothing through Tara’s Closet and its mental health awareness initiative.
- Completion of a new Strategic Plan for JFS with implementation underway.

This year’s annual report illustrates our commitment to transparency, program outcomes and the promotion of our counseling services while building our endowment and annual fund in order to stabilize our financial future. For the second time, we were awarded a three-year general operating support grant from the Hartford Foundation for Public Giving. We are very proud to meet the Foundation’s exceptionally high standards of accountability.

As we move forward, we’ll strive to increase our strong working relationships with our community colleagues and each of you. Our ability to respond to community needs can only happen with all of you and your involvement.

We recognize our Board of Directors, skilled staff, volunteers, and donors. Each of you lives our mission with us. With you as our partners, we can embrace possibility through counseling, education and community support programs. It is our privilege to work together. Thank you.

Mission Statement

THE MISSION OF JEWISH FAMILY SERVICES OF GREATER HARTFORD IS TO ENHANCE AND STRENGTHEN THE QUALITY OF LIFE THROUGH THE JEWISH TRADITION OF CARING AND COMPASSION.

HOW WE SERVE

Jewish Family Services provides counseling, education, and community support to help people of all religions advance along the path toward emotional well-being, self-reliance, more positive relationships, and a renewed sense of possibility.

OUR PARTNER AND MEMBER AGENCIES

Jewish Family Services is a partner agency of the Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford and the United Way of Central and Northeastern Connecticut. We receive significant grant support from the Jewish Community Foundation, Hartford Foundation for Public Giving, and other community and corporate foundations.

Jewish Family Services is a member of the Connecticut Council of Family Service Agencies and is nationally accredited by the Council on Accreditation.

THANK YOU TO ALL OUR SUPPORTERS, DONORS AND FRIENDS.

Our Clients, Embracing Possibility

Jewish Family Services touches more than 4,000 individuals annually. Local individuals and families utilize services provided by JFS in times of emotional, spiritual, and financial crisis. JFS also provides on-going support for families needing life-long, on-going care.

Here one such family shares their very personal and moving experience with gratitude.

Here is Brendan's story, told by his mother Cindy...

BRENDAN WITH HIS MOTHER

"Our family has had a long and wonderful association with Jewish Family Services.

I don't know how we could have coped with the challenges that come with being parents of a special needs child had it not been for our affiliation with JFS and in particular the ongoing support that we received from director of clinical services Janice Rothstein.

When our autistic son Brendan began to experience many difficulties coinciding with the onset of puberty, we received a recommendation to contact Janice. Her expertise is helping special needs children and their families cope with disability-related challenges.

That recommendation was probably the best and most accurate advice we've ever received!

Brendan grew up with JFS. He began weekly sessions when he was 14 years old, and recently celebrated his 42nd birthday. Janice was a strong advocate for Brendan through the years. She focused on his potential and she truly believed in him. She's helped him with all the major milestones in his life including the transition to employment after graduation from high school which led to a job at Cigna Corporation, and more recently the transition to living in a group home. Brendan's move to a community group home was undoubtedly the most difficult transition for our family.

I KNOW THAT WE NEVER COULD HAVE SUCCEEDED WITHOUT JFS'S SUPPORT AND GUIDANCE!

JFS was available to us night and day by text, e-mail, and phone calls to listen to the options and to help and advise us each step of the way.

Janice guided us along the way. She was our rock to lean on. She listened to our fears and concerns, and instilled in us the confidence that we were doing the right thing. She prepared us with questions to ask the group home agencies. She told us what observations were most critical.

Equally important was the encouragement and guidance provided to Brendan about how to make the transition. He was fearful and uncertain. But Janice convinced him in her gentle way that living apart from parents was a natural stage of growing up and becoming independent, just as his siblings had done. She instilled in him the confidence that he could do it, and he trusted her advice. And that made all the difference.

Our goal from the onset was preparing Brendan to live independently by learning daily living skills and asserting himself to express his needs and wants. We are happy to say that Brendan has adjusted very well to living in a group home. He has far exceeded our expectations. His success is largely due to the counseling and preparation provided over the years.

Janice is definitely Brendan's best advocate and friend outside of our immediate family.

During his transition to his group home, I recall commenting to Janice, "What would happen to him if he didn't have us (his parents)?"

Her answer: "He will always have me!" I know she means that most sincerely! What could be more comforting and reassuring to aging parents!

We continue to receive outstanding services from a JFS psychiatrist and Janice as they closely monitor Brendan's progress and needs while he continues to adjust to independence.

How fortunate we have been to have this wonderful agency and dedicated professional in our lives!"

COUNSELING SERVICES

AND THEIR SONS

Our Volunteers, Embracing Possibility

Nonprofits and volunteers go hand in hand. At JFS, volunteers play all sorts of important roles, both large and small, long-term and short-term. Some become board members, friendly visitors for homebound community members, boutique associates for Tara's Closet, produce delivery helpers, gardeners, special event planners – does this sound like a social service organization? Well, it is. This is Jewish Family Services. And here is one man's story of commitment to volunteerism, community, and humanity spun from the seeds of a garden.

This is Michael's story...

"WE MIGHT NOT CURE CANCER DURING MY LIFETIME, BUT CURING HUNGER, WE COULD DO THAT..."

I like to volunteer. I feel we're very fortunate to live in West Hartford and I believe it's important for everyone to give back to their community – no matter how you do it. But do something to give back.

This is and always has been my message to my sons. Growing up, I tried to instill in them the importance of giving back to those less fortunate.

Tikkun Olum, means literally, "repairing of the world". It is a very important Hebrew concept.

I started volunteering with Jewish Family Services six years ago after I saw an advertisement at the Mandell JCC for volunteers to care for Jessie's Community Garden in memory of Jessica Lynn Kostin. I wanted to have my children involved as well and always try to lead by example. Over the years, all three boys and my wife helped me - taking turns each week in Jessie's Garden behind the Community Services Building, where JFS is located.

After a few years, I was invited to take on a larger volunteer role, coordinating the volunteers who maintain the garden: scheduling people to weed, water, and harvest vegetables. We now have a great group of volunteers and the garden continues to grow fresh vegetables for the Anja Rosenberg Kosher Food Pantry. We grow green peppers, tomatoes, parsley, basil, dill, cucumbers, beans, squash, onions. I really enjoy the work.

At some point, the needs changed. Since I was familiar with the operation of the food pantry, I was asked if I'd like to assist distributing the food. I started volunteering on Tuesday nights as a food pantry escort, working directly with JFS food pantry clients when they pick up their weekly groceries.

My family and I also participate at the Annual JFS Thanksgiving Turkey Assembly and Distribution Event in November and the Annual Yom Kippur High Holiday Food Drive. We enjoy getting involved in JFS volunteer activities, making new friends, and providing for others less fortunate. We're always glad to help.

I believe we might not cure cancer during my lifetime, but curing hunger, we could do that in a minute, it is just a matter of time and energy. It just takes everybody to pitch in.

VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

Volunteering is a profound expression of the Jewish value of Tikkun Olam, or repairing the world. We invite you to embrace possibility and join our community of care. Brighten someone's day as a Friendly Visitor. Assist as a Food Pantry Escort. Work in Tara's Closet. Assemble and deliver holiday food baskets. Tend to Jessie's Community Garden. Lend a hand to the JFS office staff. To begin, contact Volunteer Coordinator Sherry Waitsman. Call 860.236.1927 ext. 7080.

Embrace-A-Child. Embrace-A-Family.

The financial and emotional strain on a family can be overwhelming when faced with ongoing challenges of mental health. The Embrace-A-Family initiative is an opportunity to help alleviate these barriers and subsidize basic human needs for a JFS client family who is less fortunate.

Meet Linda

Her mother suffered from early onset dementia.

Her three children were acting out at school.

She was alone.

Meet David

David's brothers both have autism.

They required more attention from his parents.

Feeling left out, David began misbehaving at home.

He needed his family.

Meet Carol

Carol's daughter was diagnosed with cancer.

Her son-in-law lost his job.

She stepped in to help her two grandchildren.

It wasn't enough.

Your gift supports each of these critically needed JFS programs:

- Counseling and services for children and adolescents
- Individual, couples, and family counseling
- Older adult services
- Services for persons with developmental disabilities
- Parent education programs
- Support for divorcing families
- Anja Rosenberg Kosher Food Pantry
- Jewish Employment Transition Services (JETS)
- Money coaching/financial recovery
- Basic Human Needs
- Holocaust Survivors Program

Jewish Family Services of Greater Hartford provides counseling, education, and community support to help people of all religions advance along the path toward emotional well-being, self-reliance, more positive relationships, and a renewed sense of possibility.

JFS provides basic human needs at no cost so individuals and families can focus on managing other stressors and challenges in their lives.

FOOD

The Anja Rosenberg Kosher Food Pantry distributes over 90,000 pounds of food, toiletries and cleaning supplies each year to local residents within the Greater Hartford area during temporary or long-term times of need.

CLOTHING

Tara's Closet provides new and like-new quality clothing to men, women and children seasonally, by appointment, in a boutique-style environment to maintain their dignity.

EMPLOYMENT

Jewish Employment Transition Services (JETS) helps people who are unemployed and underemployed to find a job through workshops, networking, and Human Resources services. The Money Coach is also available to provide financial guidance.

"We want to teach our son and daughter about giving back and through the Embrace-A-Child program we can directly help children in our community with their basic human needs."

Dana and Shawn McCormick

"Through Embrace-A-Family, we are so proud to support JFS in their efforts to care for local families and individuals in times of need in a respectful, sensitive and confidential manner."
